Court rules Campbell controls access to drive-in theater

City controls access

Judge rules for Campbell in drive-in theater case

In a long-awaited decision that may have far-reaching significance on future city-county relations, Superior Judge Albert F. DeMarco granted the City of Campbell a preliminary injunction against the proposed drive-in theater off Union Ave. and McGlincey Lane, adjacent to the freeway.

In effect the judge's decision specifies that access roads are an integral part of a drive-in theater operation. They are not just driveways as was contended by the theater operators. Drive-ways would not be subject to zoning restrictions. The theater location is under county jurisdiction but the access roads are within the city limits of Campbell.

County zoning allows drive-in theaters in the zone now in effect on the property. But Campbell zoning prohibits such operations.

Campbell's position throughout the long drawn-out controversy, beginning when the theater owners first requested a use permit from the county, was that the access roads were part of the theater and thus under city zoning, permission for a drive-in

Extend mailing hours

Post office prepares for big Christmas "push"

Although there still remains 14 mailing days until Christmas, the tempo in the annual onslaught of the Campbell post office has been increasing each day for the past month according to James M. Hurley, postmaster.

In preparation for the annual back-breaking assault on the mountain of packages that must be distributed by Christmas, Postmaster Hurley announced that beginning next Monday, Dec. 12 mailing hours will be extended at the local office.

The Monday through Friday hours (until Dec. 23) will be from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. On Saturday, Dec. 10, and also on Saturday, Dec. 17, the mailing hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

On Sunday, Dec. 18, the post office will be open from 12 noon until 4 p.m.

On Saturday, Dec. 24, the office will resume the normal Saturday hours (9 a.m. to noon).

In urging people to mail their packages early, Hurley recalled that last year the cooperation of the general public in this regard was tremendous, enabling the Campbell office to deliver virtually every piece of mail before Christmas Day. He hoped the KEY-NOTER--Congressman Charles S. Gubser, who was elected in November to his eighth term as U.S. Representative, will be the key-note speaker at Campbell's first "Congress for Community Progress" which will be held on Feb. 13 at West Valley College.

More than 400 representatives from all segments of the community are expected to participate in the program. Laurance Hill, Campbell Union High District superintendent and newly-elected C. of C. board member is general chairman for the "congress".

Cat control code concerns City Council

Although an ordinance regulating the keeping of bees within the city limits buzzed right through the first reading of the City Council, indications are that the long-awaited city cat control ordinance will have rougher going unless modified from the original version.

A redraft of the original "cat" ordinance will be before the City Council Monday night.

Indications are, however, that some fur will fly unless the section specifying the number of cats allowed in one house is changed.

The first draft set the limit at two for both cats and dogs in one home. (Dogs, however, are covered in a different ordinance.)

The same ordinance specifies that animals must be kept under healthful and sanitary conditions.

It was to put teeth in the control of the healthful and sanitary conditions created by animals in the home that was the real basis for the ordinance, according to city manager Bob Stephens. However, it is expected that the limit on the number of cats allowed that will raise the most fuss from feline followers.

City councilmen were absent from the city during the first part of the week attending the

Seven win seats on C.of C. board

School, church, professions, business and industry are represented by the seven new directors who have been elected to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors for two-year terms. They will take office on Jan. 4.

The ballots were counted last Friday. More than 150 voted in the election.

The seven elected from a field of 16 candidates will comprise the 15-member board with the eight hold-over directors. At the first meeting of the year, Jan. 4, the board will name the president, vice-president and treasurer.

Dick Hardy served as president during the past year and six months of the previous term of Ron Tharp, who had been transferred by IBM before completing his term. Hardy, who has been a C. of C. director for several terms, is retiring from the board this year but will serve as an ex-officio member as past

College expansion plans to involve two cities

West Valley College, faced with rapidly expanding enrollment and an ever-increasing housing problem which has been compounded by the defeat of a bond issue in November, has applied to the cities of Campbell and Saratoga for use permits that will allow the college to erect buildings in both municipalities.

The applications are different in scope but indications are that there might be rough going in both cities before the use permits are granted.

In the Saratoga case, the college board has authorized the erection of the first permanent building for the campus. In Campbell the college is seeking 14 additional relocatable buildings to be placed on the Latimer Ave. and Rincon Ave. parking lots.

At the last board meeting, Trustee Bruce Allen indicated his displeasure in the apparent delay that has occurred in the submission of plans for the required use permit.

The college filed for a use permit in Saratoga last Thursday for the engineering-technology building. The permit is expected to be acted on by the Saratoga Planning

PINPOINTING LOCATIONS in town is routine for us.

There are very few areas or streets with which we are unfamiliar.

But in the story last week about Milt and Clarence Nelson bowing out of their business on Campbell Ave. after these many years, we placed their store at "2nd St." instead of "First".

The story also mentioned that Clarence's original store was at "First and Central". That would have been a neat trick for Clarence to pull off, inasmuch as those two streets run parallel to each other.

THE ADDRESS, of course, should have been "Central and Campbell".

We doubt, however, that the errors were even noticed.

After all when two guys have been around this town as long as Milt and Clarence have, pinpointing addresses for them seems a little superfluous.

And for sure the town is going to miss 'em.

They are sort of landmarks, like those two walnut trees at the railroad crossing.

DOWNTOWN CAMPBELL AVE., during the 11 years or so that we have been exposed to it, has almost completely changed in character.

The closing of the retail business of the Nelson brothers and the proposed conversion of the store building into a service center for the high school district is one more step in the transition of the street from strictly a shopping area to its new character.

ALTHOUGH there are still a number of excellent stores on the street, in a decade things have changed.

During the past 10 years, four large shopping centers, Campbell Shopping Center, at Latimer and Winchester; Kirkwood Plaza, at San Tomas and Campbell; Hamilton Plaza, at Hamilton and Bascom and Campbell Plaza, at Winchester and Budd have been constructed.

All of them are within the city limits of Campbell.

In face of those developments, "the image" of downtown Campbell was forced to change.

And it has, although some of us are too close to the forest to see the trees.

TALK ABOUT CHANGES---

To emphasize our point: on Campbell Ave. from Winchester to Bascom, now that Milt and Clarence are pulling out, there are only ten business firms operating today under the same management that that were when we hit town some 11 years ago.

These include, Jeffers, Vince's Shoes, Taste Good Bakery,

Editorial

Looking ahead

Campbell's Chamber of Commerce has now come of age and is developing into an aggressive and progressive organization that is dedicated to the betterment of the community.

The C. of C. is now recognized as being the focal point of the community.

Through cooperation and coordination with the city administration in communitywide projects, the Chamber and city now work in close harmony to reach ultimate objectives.

This excellent city-C. of C. relationship that has now been established, will benefit the entire community and will make the going easier in the future, for there is much to do and the surface has barely been scratched.

The "new" vigor and enthusiasm that is noticeable in the attitude of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce as they work toward definite goals is refreshing.

And there is increased community-wide interest to make the C. of C. even a stronger spoke in the civic wheel. This is also a healthy sign.

We think no better example of this increased interest can be submitted than the recent election of Directors for the C. of C.

Terms of office for seven members on the 15-member board expire at the end of the year.

Ordinarily to find enough candidates willing to devote the time and effort to serve as directors would be a difficult task.

This year 16 community business and professional leaders were willing to have their names placed on the ballot for the seven vacancies.

In our opinion, no higher compliment could be paid the Campbell Chamber of Commerce than that.

The seven directors who were elected, plus the eight hold-over board members, truly represent a cross-section of the community. We doubt that any Chamber of Commerce in the state can boast of a more representative group.

Nine of the 16 candidates, of course, could not be elected to the board but their interest in a strong C. of C. was manifest in agreeing to serve, if they were elected.

And, incidentally, those nine "defeated" candidates are all interested business leaders and would have made excellent directors. And they will continue to support the C. of C. in its efforts to build and progress.

One of the most ambitious undertakings planned by the Chamber of Commerce for the next year will be Campbell's first "Congress for Community Progress," scheduled for Feb. 13.

The objective of the "congress" is to establish a better understanding among the various segments of the community as to the problems that face the area.

All civic organizations within the community, as well as many individual citizens, will be asked to participate in this program which should prove invaluable to the community.

It will be the first time in this community's history that an organized effort has been made to "lay the cards on the table" and to come up with the answers.

The Chamber of Commerce, naturally, is spearheading this program, for no other organization in this community is better equipped with personnel representing every segment of the community life.

For example, as we noted, the seven directors who were named last week include representatives of school, church, professions, business, banking, and industry.

These are Laurance J. Hill, school; the Rev. William Gould, church; Bob Bullard, C.P.A., professional; Harry Aho and Bill Brown, business; Don Kennedy, banker; and Richard Frothingham, industry.

We think you must agree that this is an excellent representation for any community.

Hold-over directors include, two bankers, Harry Lind and Tony Bonaccorso; an attorney, Jim Baker; a doctor, William Kuhlman, M.D.; utilities, Lee Sicard; a merchant, Meryl MacLean; insurance, Ken Mantle and newspaper, George Vierhus.

With such a group "to direct" the C. of C. during 1967, we are confident that the organization will continue to move forward and function as the primary focal point of the community.

Much of this new enthusiasm and vigorous attitude that has become so much a part of the Campbell's Chamber of Commerce must, naturally, be credited to the Chamber's manager, Jim Duffield, who has provided the necessary spark to light the fuse that has set the C. of C. in motion.

Credit also must be given to the directors and officers, headed by Dick Hardy, president, and Bill Oltmann, treasurer, who are retiring this year after giving unstintingly of their time and who never lost sight of the goal which at times, they recall, was slightly clouded.

With the groundwork that has been laid, as the old year draws to a close and the new year looms on the horizon, we are confident that the C. of C. will continue to occupy the key spot in the efforts to build a better community.

Campbell Cleaners, Blue Bell, Guy Farley, Joe Dahl, Verle Grizzle, Campbell Florist, Dr. W.R. Morgan and Dr. Paul Werthmann.

We could include Wells Fargo in our list because Jack Payne, its manager, was here when we came. But it was American Trust then.

Incidentally, of the ten, only Blue Bell, Campbell Florist and the offices of Guy Farley, Joe Dahl, Dr. Werthmann, and Dr. Morgan are in the same location as they were in 1955.

So, if you have been thinking that Campbell Ave. has not changed much in the last 10 years, well----

We know hundreds of communities in which there haven't been that many changes in 50 years or more.

WE KEEP wondering just what the next 10 years will bring forth for that tired old street.

The street, of course, is going to be improved. And soon.

The question seems to be how ambitious should this improvement really be.

It could become the "gateway to Campbell" and be an attractive boulevard.

-0-

OR IT COULD be resurfaced and remain basically what it is. The more ambitious the project, the more it will cost.

But changes have come to the street during the past 10 years without much direction.

Some would like to see the changes of the future have an overall objective, a sort of ultimate goal.

But, you know something, we can't tell you what is the right goal.

Having seen the street in 1956 and what has happened in a decade since, we sort of wish it were possible to peek into 1976.

We wonder, if we would recognize our old main drag.

"THE TALE OF TWO CITIES", the title of a favored classic of ours, could also be the appellation for the impending struggle that the West Valley College board is going to have in satisifying, or trying to, two cities, Saratoga and Campbell.

The college, having been turned down in its bond issue to get funds to build a permanent campus, still has to take care of its bulging enrollment.

The college has been operating in temporary quarters in the old Campbell Grammer School. Some of the old school buildings now cannot be used for classrooms. Relocatable classrooms have been placed on the parking lots of the Campbell campus.

Campbell officials have indicated they would like to have the college stay permanently but this "temporary" idea is getting a little old.

NOW IN SARATOGA it is different.

The district owns plenty of land, a 143-acre site. But Saratoga people have not been enthusiastic about the college coming to their area at all--permanently or temporary.

This modern version of "The Tale of Two Cities" will not become a best-seller. One of the basic ingredients is missing. It is going to be difficult to separate the "bad guys" from the "good guys" in this epic.

And, there is always Santa Clara on the sidelines.

Ready, willing and able to make it the "Tale of Three Cities".

theater could not be granted.

Despite this city's vigorous protests during the preliminary skirmishes involving the county agencies, use and building permits were granted by the county.

Having exhausted all other means, the City of Campbell then filed an injunction suit against the theater owners to prevent the use of the access roads onto Winchester Dr. (then McGlincey) or onto Union Ave. City Attorney Joe Bonacina, and Attorney Dick Morton, former Campbell mayor, represented the city in the legal battle.

Prior to the hearing on the preliminary injunction suit in September, a temporary restraining order was issued by the court preventing any improvement of the access roads.

Despite this legal cloud hanging over the situation, the theater owners have paved the theater site and constructed the necessary facilities for showing movies.

same would be true this year.

Postmaster Hurley pointed out that mailing early and spreading the mail flow during the entire pre-Christmas season was the key to better service. Obviously, he added, that, if all the holiday mail would hit the local office at one time, distribution would suffer.

"The 14 mailing days that are left before Christmas may seem a long time to some people," Hurley added, "but to us in the postal service it is frightfully short."

To facilitate mailing, Postmaster Hurley offered some tips:

Use zip codes on all types of mail. A zip code directory is available at the post office for those numbers you don't know.

Wrap your packages well and include sufficient padding to prevent damage.

Use first class postage on greeting cards which assures them being forwarded if the person has moved. Special five-cent Christmas stamps have been issued by the Post Office Department.

Be sure the cards, letters and packages are addressed clearly.

Postmaster Hurley added also that he wished to thank the patrons of the Campbell post office for their splendid cooperation during this busy and trying season.

If there's one car in American automotive history that can be called a legend, it's the Stutz Bearcat. Just the mention of its name brings back to mind all the glamour and glitter of the Roaring Twenties. When we think of the Stutz, we recall Prohibition. The Big Apple and the Coonskin Coat. But the Bearcat has a greater claim to fame than being the symbol of a crazy, mixed-up period of history; it was a fine, tough automobile, boasting a remarkable four-cylinder, sixteen valve engine that was second to none as a roaring, snorting hill-climbing powerhouse. It's little wonder that the grandfathers of today get a far-away and nostalgic gleam in their eyes at the mention of the fabulous Stutz...

Students study operaton of industries

Students at St. Lucy's have had the unusual opportunity to learn about the nation's leading industries and how they operate, from raw materials on through the finished product. The program is sponsored by the Educational ABC's of Industry. It fits principally into the social studies area. Projects are organized on the industries and are carried out by the students.

One manufacturer from each industry sponsors the story of their product and company. Career stories are also included. Some of the industry stories in the program are: bread making, rubber, grain, agriculture, salt processing, oil and gasoline, etc.

The Educational ABC's of Industry is designed completely for use in the schools. Free books are provided by the sponsoring industry. In many instances this program provides the only opportunity for many young students to become acquainted with our leading industries and their operations.

PTA News

Moreland P.T.A. meeting will be held in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 13. Boy Scout Troop Cub Pack 339 will present the colors. This will be the children's annual program for their parents.

PRIZE WINNERS--Helen Laver and Sandra Velasco, students at St. Lucy's School, receive awards as winners in a contest sponsored by the Educational ABC's of Industry. Sister Lucy Julie, principal of St. Lucy's School, makes the presentations. The purpose of the program is to give students the opportunity to learn about various industries and how they operate.

The Community Hospital of Los Gatos-Saratoga will conduct an open house for expectant parents at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 7, according to hospital administrator Robert P. Hannum.

Open free to all expectant parents of the area, the visitation includes a tour of the 156-bed general hospital's labor and delivery rooms, and viewing of a film dealing with growth of the baby from conception to birth, along with early post-natal care of the infant.

In addition, Mrs. Carolyn Fischer, supervisor of the obstetrics department, will lead a question and answer discussion concerning procedures of the obstetrics department.

Those planning to attend the Dec. 7 program are asked to register at the hospital's information desk upon arrival. Community Hospital also conducts the programs on the second Wednesday of each month at 10 a.m. and on the third Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The visitations will continue through the holiday season, the administrator said.

The Sunmobile--a model car powered by sunlight--was one of the features of General Motors exciting science show, Previews of Progress, which was presented at Campbell High School on Monday, Dec. 5.

"There are no plans to produce sun-powered cars in the foreseeable future," GM President James M. Roche declares, "but this demonstration symbolizes the continuing search of scientists and engineers for the secrets of power and energy."

Previews of Progress is a non-commercial stage show designed to encourage more students to make science and engineering their career. Packed with nine dramatic demonstrations, the 45-minute program was presented in non-technical language by a specially trained two-man team.

Campbell Crier

by DAVE TURNER

Campbell's campus has drawn a mountain of criticism this year from students and administrators alike concerning its messy appearance. In years past Campbell has won several awards in district-wide clean campus competition. Last year we missed out on these awards and this year a notice of any such contest would most likely be lost in the rubbish around the grounds.

Despite the awareness of everyone of the situation, no one seems to be doing anything about it. Students talk about the trash, but they don't pick it up. The Student Council talks about the problem, but they get no farther than that.

The only positive action which has been openly displayed thus far appeared last Friday in the school newspaper, Campus Echo. Behind Miss Cassie Taul, Campbell High journalism teacher, journalism students launched a Clean Campus Campaign (C.C.C.). The Campus Echo, which has been under fire from the Student Council since late last year for its lack of worth-while content, has shown by attacking the problem of clean campus that it doesn't stop at just talking about the problem.

SURFING FILMS

The Buc Marching Band is continuing its fund raising campaign in hopes of sending next years band to the Rose Bowl. Toward this end, the band is presenting "Surfing Hollow Days" Friday Dec. 9, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The program will feature films by Bruce Brown, one of the best surfing photographers in the country. Admission will be $1.25.

This Friday will find our A Cappella Choir at San Jose Civic Auditorium all day for the annual A Cappella Choir Festival. In the past Campbell's choirs have established an admirable reputation for their outstanding performances at this event. A similar showing is expected this year.

WINTER SPORTS

The rains came but the coaches and athletes cared not. Sports action has moved indoors for the winter season, with basketball and wrestling capturing all attention in the sports world.

The wrestling team, under Coach Al Mathews, opens its season this Friday at 3 p.m. against Logan on the home mats. Subjected to a vigorous conditioning program, the team is expected to be very strong in the lower weight divisions where they have great depth and a number of returning lettermen. This strength is expected to offset the weakness of the sparsely populated upper divisions for a third place league, or better.

Coach Mike Sweeney's Soph-Frosh basketball team boasts great potential with a well-balanced mixture of height and outside sharpshooting. Many people around campus who know basketball are predicting a championship for this squad.

After two successive seasons of misery for Coach Bert Robinson and his varsity teams, this seasons quintet should rebound to a middle-of-the-league finish at least. Although they lack a great deal of height, a lightening quick fast break and several good shooters and sharp defensive players should balance the attack.

The next varsity game is against Lick at 8:30 Thursday night in the James Lick Invitational Tournament at Lick. The team will play Friday night and hopefully Saturday. This last game and the times of the last two will depend on the outcomes of the other games.

Banquet has great turn-out

A capacity crowd of parents and friends turned out for the Campbell High School sports banquet last Wednesday night. Fire Chief George Maxwell was master of ceremonies. He introduced the various coaches as well as Harry Anderson, football coach for San Jose State College. Anderson encouraged the athletes to participate in sports all year round, in order to keep in top shape. The S.J.S.C. football coach introduced Mike Spitzer, former Campbell High school football player, now playing for San Jose State.

Trophies were awarded to all members of the Soph-Frosh football team by Coach Ron Leonti. Five members of the Soph-Frosh team were named All-League. They are Ken Kaneko, Randy Fujishin, Bill Womack, Andy Morris and Dan Morris. Mike Bates was named the most inspirational player and Tim McGuire and Dan Morris were named the most improved players on the Soph-Frosh team.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Varsity football coach Mike Jones introduced the graduating seniors who played football this season. Each member of the team received a plaque commemorating the Campbell-Los Gatos football game with the score 25-0 engraved on it.

A special award was given to Al Shimzu, team captain, by the Security Savings and Loan Association as outstanding lineman, both in team participation, scholarship and citizenship. He also received an award for the most unassisted tackles.

Others given awards were Chuck Hawthorne, most valuable player; Kent McLain, most improved passer; John Lobrovich and Mike Clark, most fumbles recovered; and Mike Nelson received the Bud Weeks Memorial award for being the most inspirational player.

Awards were also given to the C and D basketball teams and to the track teams.

Del Mar Dateline

by LINDA DEL GRANDE

The eighth annual Fall Sports Banquet was held Wednesday, Nov. 30, in the Del Mar cafetorium.

Honored at this important event were members of the fall sports teams. They received block awards or certificates.

The freshmen class took first place in the P.T.A. membership drive with seventy per-cent enrollment. They were awarded fifty dollars for their class treasury. The sophomores were a close second with sixty-six per cent. Their class also received fifty dollars.

"A Ride on the Wild Side" was the theme for the Omega Sigma Phis Senior Boys Service Club car rally. This event was held Dec. 4.

Del Mar will be one of the eleven participating choirs at the 28th annual A Cappella Choir Festival sponsored by San Jose Unified School District.

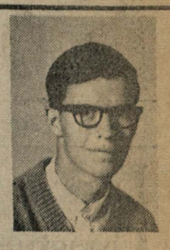
Highlighting the evening will be the combined voices of the choirs. They will sing four numbers under the baton of Dr. Rudolph Salter of California State at Hayward.

This event will be held Dec. 9 at 8 p.m., at the Civic Auditorium. There will be no admission charge.

BASKETBALL

The Del Mar Don's varsity basketball team went on to win their second game Friday, Dec. 2. The Dons smashed Cupertino with a score of 57-69.

Warrior World



by RUSS LONG

Tonight, the third annual Fall Sports Banquet takes place in the cafeteria. Those fellows who participated in the fall sports will be honored, and those who earned blocks or other awards will receive their awards.

Alas, the mighty Westmont men's faculty was thwarted again in its attempt to squash the KLIV Prunes. Rain again canceled the game, and hopes for another scheduling are dim.

Art Commission starts its decorating activities this week. The Christmas decorations will be used for both around the school and the Christmas dance.

A "Mod" Christmas is the theme chosen for the semi-formal dance to be held Dec. 16 from 8 to 11 p.m. in the cafetorium. Pictures of the dance can be purchased from the Photo Commission.

The band's annual candy sale got under way Monday, as band members received their allotments to sell. Don't be surprised if a guy or gal comes up to you and asks if you'd like to purchase a bar or two. Businessmen take note: if you buy a box for resale in your business, it is tax deductable.

What will the proceeds be used for? The profits from the sale will go toward paying off the cost of the band uniforms. If there are any questions, please contact the school, 378-1500, and ask for Mr. Kenyon, band director.

Students are encouraged to glance at the activities calander posted in the activities office window. This calander gives time and dates of sports activities, dances, tournaments, banquets, and other school activities.

Yesterday the Warriors five met the Mountain View five in a basketball game played at Mountain View. Scores of the two games, Frosh-Soph and Varsity, were not available as this goes to press.

A Varsity score is available though for the Warrior vs. Warrior game held last Friday in the Westmont gym. The Warriors of Westmont lost 79-67 to the Warriors of Wilcox. Westmont scoring was led by Bruce Anderson with 21 points, Don Melrose with 11, and Roy Grillo with 10.

Friday the Warrior cagers meet Homestead's hoopsters at 7:00 p.m. in Homestead's gym. These non-league games preceed the league action, which starts Jan. 6 with a home game against Del Mar.

with "Charlie" Gubser

Along with other members of the Armed Services Committee I will soon take part in extensive hearings on legislation to extend the Selective Service law. At that time it will be necessary to separate truth from fiction, divide facts from distortion, and distinguish solid evidence from honest confusion.

Recently a "study" was conducted by twelve persons headed by a poverty official in my home town of Gilroy. The conclusions though probably sincere, were at variance with the facts as I know them.

According to press reports the Gilroy "study" implied that because racial minorities and the poor are not represented on draft boards in proportion to their numbers they receive less than an even break from local draft boards. This implication does not even approach the truth.

Selective Service questionnaires have contained no questions pertaining to race since the late forties so not much information is available about draft board treatment of various races. But it is possible to learn something from the pre-induction examination given by the Armed Services. In 1965 25.1 percent of Negroes examined were accepted for service as compared with 54.2 percent of other races.

The Gilroy "study" implies that a higher percentage of the poor are required to serve because they cannot go to college. This is also false. Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey recently told my committee, "... of the people we defer for college about 56 percent of them get into the service and only about 43 to 44 percent of those who do not go to college get into the service...". More than 2.25 million have been rejected for military service because they could not pass a test to show educational achievement up to the fifth grade level. Poverty officials tell us that the greatest number of persons who live in poverty are those with the lowest level of education. So again the implications of the Gilroy "study" are not supported in fact.

The implication that registrants are not informed of their right to appeal is equally false. Every communication from Selective Service informs the registrant of his right to appeal. Furthermore each local draft board has a local lawyer to serve as an appeal agent without cost to registrants.

Undoubtedly the Selective Service law needs a thorough going study and improvement. My committee fully intends to do this but our task will not be made easy by "studies" which draw conclusions based upon false facts. Draft board members are human beings and make mistakes but by large they are fair, honest and dedicated in their performance of a difficult public service for which they receive little thanks and no pay.

Economic status and race do not automatically qualify a man to make a fair decision nor does it imply that he will be unfair. Our draft boards will be successful only insofar as we are successful in getting outstanding men who are known in the community for their fairness and who are deserving of trust.

POLICE CONDUCT CLASS--Another in the series of "classes" for citizens conducted by Police Chief John D. Morgan and fellow police officers tonight (Wednesday) at the city hall. The objective of the classes is to give the citizens an opportunity to learn how a police department operates and also what the citizens responsibility is to the police. As a sort of "lab" for those attending classes, class members may schedule a three-hour field trip with police officers when they will ride in police cars. The field trip is arranged at the students' convenience.

Last day

Does your teenage daughter want her name in the telephone book? Is it already there and would you like to remove it?

Either way, it must be done by Dec. 8, Pacific Telephone Manager, Lee Sicard said today.

Police class has openings

There are still a few openings in tonight's class (Wednesday) offered by the Campbell Police Department at City Hall, 75 N. Central Ave. The classes, offered to local residents monthly, are directed by Chief of Police John D. Morgan on the subject "Understanding of Law Enforcement. The class begins at 7 p.m. On another night of their choosing, applicants may "make the rounds" with officers in an effort to see "law enforcement in action."

Another class has been scheduled for Thursday, January 12. Anyone interested in learning more about the workings of the Police Department is invited to attend these classes. Call the Police Department at 378-8141 for an application.

Letters to the Editor

RENAMING SCHOOL FOR JACK FISCHER

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

We would appreciate having the enclosed letters published in the Campbell Press.

Sincerely,
Don and Helen Hamm
Dale and Anita Nethercutt

Dear Mrs. Graham-Armstrong,

We would like to express our feelings regarding the renaming of the San Tomas School to the Jack C. Fischer School. In the past fifteen years our children have attended seven different school districts.

Only four short years of this time was spent at San Tomas School. In all this time we have met some wonderful people, but none that we could say should be given special credit for their efforts, with the exception of Jack C. Fischer. Jack Fischer was a Special Person.

The Board of Trustees must be aware of the fact that they will seldom be faced with a precedent shattering move such as this Name Change. There just are not that many people around who deserve this kind of recognition, we therefore heartily recommend the changing of the San Tomas School name to the Jack C. Fischer School.

Sincerely yours,
Don and Helen Hamm

JACK FISCHER SCHOOL

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

There have been several heartfelt letters in your paper recently urging the renaming of the San Tomas School to the "Jack Fischer School". We would like to add our voices to those who advocate this change, because of our long and happy association with Jack through the school.

Our three youngest children were at San Tomas School from the year 1953 on so that we were represented there almost the entire time that Jack was principal of the school. During that time, we were privileged to work with him in various capacities. I was president of the PTA one year, and found Jack to be as faithful in carrying out his promises to help that organization, as he was quick to offer his help in every way. The strength of the San Tomas PTA, which is known throughout the District, was due in a large part to his cooperation and enthusiasm for PTA. This in turn was one of the many ways he found to help the students at San Tomas to build a strong feeling of cooperation and school spirit. Another was the sixth grade picnic which was an event eagerly anticipated by all the students of that grade, and by those 4th and 5th graders who had it to look forward to.

There were countless other ways that Jack made school more than just a place to "study". His many kind and thoughtful acts will live on in the memories of those for whom he did them.

It is for these intangible, yet real, reasons that we feel the name of the San Tomas School should be changed to honor the memory of Jack Fischer.

Sincerely,
James and Juliana Cardellino

Dear Mrs. Graham-Armstrong,

The recent proposal to change the name of San Tomas Elementary School to Jack C. Fischer Elementary School has been watched with a great deal of interest and high hope by most of our local people. We write this letter to add our names to all those people who knew Jack Fischer and appreciated his gift for and willingness to help others.

Being a teacher at Andrew Hill High School, San Jose, I feel well qualified to praise the late Jack Fischer for his ability as an educator and as a school administrator. My wife and I as parents, are grateful for his years at San Tomas School and feel privileged to have known him. The responsibility and just plain hard work of the profession was conscientiously assumed by this man, but that is only a portion of what he offerred. Students and their families, teachers and school workers all benefitted from the help he lavishly gave to them, help that did not end at the sidewalk of the school.

If any of us were to learn that a large inheritance had been bestowed upon us, our gratitude would be beyond a mere Thank You. We of San Tomas have been so rewarded. What more fitting way to say Thank You than by officially calling "Jack's School", the Jack C. Fischer Elementary School.

Sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. Dale W. Nethercutt

Tax office stays open until noon this Saturday

Louis A. Lopes, county tax collector, announced his office would be open Saturday morning, Dec. 10, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, to accomodate taxpayers who wish to call at the office and pay their property taxes, or are in need of tax information.

The first installment becomes delinquent at 5 p.m., Monday, Dec. 12. Payments mailed to the office must be postmarked by 5 p.m., Dec. 12, otherwise a 6% penalty is automatically charged to each taxpayers account by state law.

Taxpayers who mail their payments in to the tax office promptly will receive their receipts earlier, as a very heavy mail load is expected the first part of December. Taxpayers who mail in their payments of the last day, Dec. 12, should deliver them to a post office instead of a corner mail box in order to insure that the postmark will be Dec. 12.

Taxpayers who have not received a tax bill should contact the tax office immediately, telephone 299-2241. It is the taxpayers responsibility to see that they receive a tax bill,

American Municipal Congress in Las Vegas where they may have learned from other city officials attending the conference what the general feeling is over the establishing of a housing authority under county jurisdiction. The council had deferred action on the housing authority issue at a previous meeting.

The council will also receive a staff report concerning the enforcement of zoning and building codes in the city.

Plans for additions to the city's service center (corporation yard) on Dillon Ave. will also be presented to the council and the council is also expected to adopt specifications for the new police cars.

Terms of two members of the parks and recreation commission, John Billymeyer and Mrs. Betty Grizzle, are expiring on Dec. 31 and the council may reappoint them at Monday's meeting.

Rainfall sets record to date

The wettest season up to Dec. 6 in 16 years was recorded by the Campbell Water Company Tuesday at 8 a.m. with current total of 7.65 inches of rain going on the rainfall chart. In 1950 7.89 inches had been recorded by Dec. 6.

Rainfall from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. Monday night was .48 inches, with the weekend rain totaling 2.76 inches. This time last year 5.26 inches had fallen with normal rainfall at 3.31. Comparison figures show that in 1958 only .19 inches of rain had fallen by the same date.

MORE ABOUT

College plans

Commission on Dec. 12. Prior to that time college and city officials are expected to iron out many of the details involved.

College officials say that the 14 additional relocatable classrooms are needed for the Campbell campus in order to complete the evacuation of the main building of the old grade school plant which has failed to meet the earthquake safety specifications in the 1933 Field Act.

The college board has authorized a total of 35 relocatable classrooms, most of them slated for the Campbell site. The architectural firm of Higgins and Root, however, has been directed to incorporate architectural features that will harmonize with the appearance of future permanent structures on the Saratoga site.

Based on previous opposition registered by citizens of Saratoga to having a college campus in their city, observers feel that the college will not have an easy time of getting that city's blessing for building either permanently or temporarily in Saratoga.

Meantime back at the Campbell city hall, there have been some mutterings about the "shackville" that the "temporary" Campbell campus may turn into because of the many relocatable classrooms that are planned for the parking lots.

Campbell city councilmen at a joint meeting with the college board before the bond election wanted to know what the future held for the Campbell campus. At that time they indicated that they would frown on more temporary buildings until the future of the Campbell site was determined by the board. The college trustees agreed to meet with the council again after the bond vote.

Another joint meeting has been scheduled for Monday, Dec. 19.

City officials feel that this meeting may have a great deal of bearing as to how Campbell will react officially to the request for additional relocatable classrooms.

In contrast to the site situation in Campbell and Saratoga, relations with the third city, Santa Clara, that is involved in the college's future, continue to be of the very best, despite the turn down at the polls, Nov. 8.

The bond issue that was rejected by the voters specified that the first permanent campus would be built in Santa Clara and officials of that city still hope that the college will have a campus there some day.

And Santa Clara has indicated that it will continue to offer "development assistance" for this eventual campus.

This assistance, Dr. Hall told the college board last week included the assumption of advance costs for the site until the district was able to pay; examination of the possibility of urban renewal funds for the site area north of Bayshore Freeway; and the creation of a three-man committee of the City Council and staff to work with the college trustees and staff to assist the college in any way, particularly in matters pertaining to the Bayshore site.

Junior college enrollment goes up in county

Junior college enrollment in Santa Clara County is at an all-time high of 28,286 students, Dr. Wallace Hall, West Valley College president, reported to the college board last week.

He said that this was an increase of 3384 students or 14 per cent over the previous year and that West Valley College enrollment had jumped 23 per cent. He said that Foothill increased 13 per cent; San Jose City, 9 per cent and Gavilan, 19 per cent.

Dr. Hall reported also that a total of 1912 regular and extended day students had already been programmed for the upcoming semester and several thousand others have already made counseling appointments.

Dr. Hall also reported comparative figures on assessed valuation and bonding capacity for the four junior college districts in the county as follows, with district name, assessed valuation and bonding capacity listed in that order:

Foothill College, $779,500,000; $38,975,000; Gavilan College, $132,245,000, $6,612,000; San Jose City College, $660,525,000, $33,026,000, and West Valley College, $576,450,000, $28,822,000. Foothill had already bonded itself in the amount of $22,710,000 and Gavilan in the amount of $1,785,000. San Jose City College and West Valley College have not yet issued bonds.

At the same meeting, the board by a 4-2 vote instructed the administration to reword the present regulations issued to new and returning students, to make it clearly understood that purchase of a $7.50 student activity card is purely voluntary.

The action was taken after Trustee Bruce Allen questioned the schedule for registration, which presently requires that students obtain student body cards prior to be given their counseling appointments.

In other actions at the meeting the board established new rates for student employees ranging from $1.50 to $2.00 per hour and authorized an agreement with the Santa Clara police department for lease of the department's pistol range for police science student training one day per week at a total cost of $225.

Viking squad defeats City College, 61-54

The West Valley College basketball squad broke into the win column in its second attempt with a 61-54 victory over cross-town rival San Jose City College last Saturday night on the Jaguar court.

The Vikings pulled the game out in the last two minutes when sophmore forward Bob Roehl dropped in two points to put West Valley out in front 54-52. Roehl's Jaguar counterpart was a little too anxious to block the shot and was whistled for a personal. Roehl sank the charity toss to give the Vikes a three point margin.

West Valley's Dave Smith connected with a two pointer to increase the lead by five. The Jaguars battled back with three points of their own.

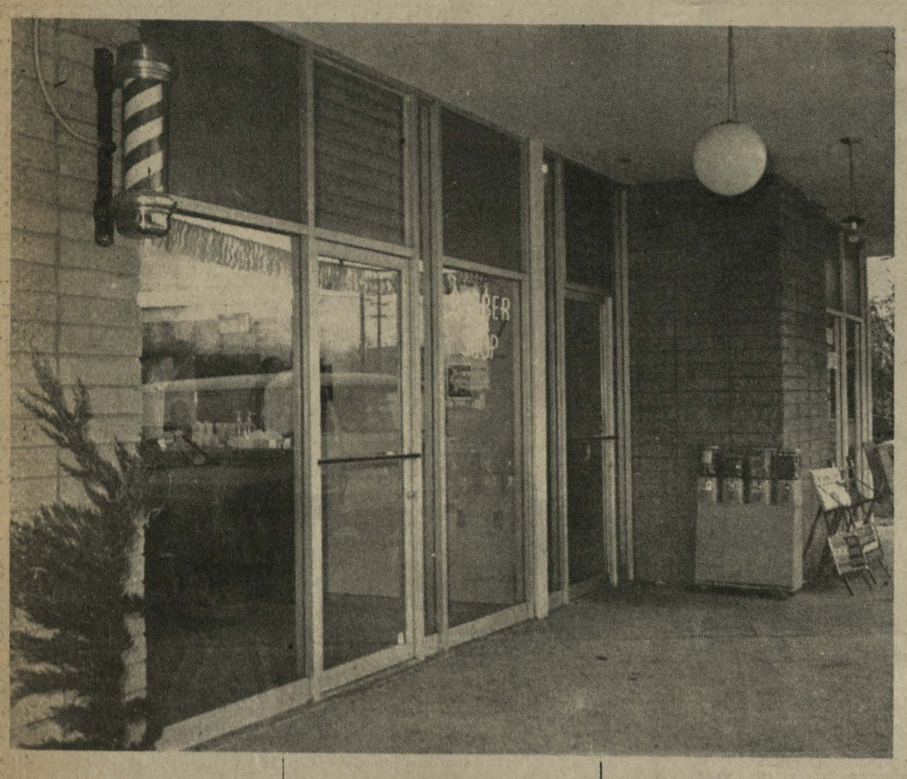
NEWS ABOUT LOCAL BUSINESSES, AND BUSINESS PEOPLE

WHAT'S FOR CHRISTMAS, SANTA?--Jerry Guiterrez, of Campbell, was on hand bright and early Saturday morning to query "Santa" about what he had in the bag... He got his share too... (You'll have to ask Santa yourself, for yours) Santa has made the trip to Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester and Latimer each Saturday at 10 a.m., and he'll be there each Saturday, until Christmas, all this month. Hurry down there this Saturday (and the next two to come) and find out!



CLIP, AND SIP--The new barber shop next to "Charlie's Donut Shop is mighty convenient for the "snack" gang. Paul Jones, the proprietor of the Bascom Avenue Barber Shop at 2296 Bascom (next to "Charlie's") has recently opened the tonsorial shop for MAN 'N BOY!, and has prices to show that he's serious (see adv. somewhere in this paper!) about "getting busy". As for the "sipping" part of it... Well, you can grab a cup and a "dunker" while you wait for Junior to get his "locks" shorn.

MISTER(S) DONUT--Board Chairman Harry Winokur and President David B. Slater, announced jointly this week the promotion of Nicholas J. Fiorentino (left) of Boston, as senior vice-president, and Donald S. King (right) of Chicago, as vice-president of MISTER DONUT of America, Inc., international chain of franchised coffee and donut shops. (over 200 throughout the United States and Canada). And you can find Campbell's "own" Mister Donut on Winchester... just below Hamilton..."Dunk in, sometime!"

"HAPPY GAS!" MAKES FOR GOOD BUSINESS

"The world's happiest service station" of Dick Sgarlato in Campbell is featured in the current issue of Super Service Station, the trade magazine for over 115,000 of the nation's dealers.

An article tells how Sgarlato has developed his station sales by personal solicitation of local businesses. He set out on a personal selling campaign when he realized local businessmen near the station had five to 20 cars on the road. He emphasizes his complete one-stop operation and seeks total service orders: gasoline, tires, batteries and accessories, brake work, lubrication and tune-ups.

Sgarlato, in explaining his "world's happiest" slogan, says he attempts "to put everyone in a good frame of mind." The article concludes that while the smile may be a small thing, the dealer is convinced it is what "keeps our customers coming back again and again."

BLUE CHIPS OPEN FOR 6 DAYS - FOR CHRISTMAS

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, Dec. 1--The 85 Blue Chip Stamp Co. redemption stores in California and Nevada will be open six days a week through December 24 for the convenience of Holiday shoppers, according to a spokesman at the company's main office in Los Angeles. All redemption stores are open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

"The popularity of Blue Chip stamp redemption merchandise as Christmas gifts has grown tremendously over the years and we feel that being open six days a week and using additional employees will greatly increase our service to Blue Chip stamp savers," he said.

Blue Chip has recently made available a collection of contemporary art oil-on-canvas reproductions. Although not listed in the redemption catalogue, the paintings are displayed prominantly in all redemption stores. Additional paintings will be added to the collection as they are acquired by the company, he added.
